

CHRISTMAS is three weeks from yesterday. Can you believe it? It obviously is unpatriotic to buy gifts that use electricity, but have you noticed the ads? Every other gift suggestion is a luxury item that is electrically operated. Another thing — "they" say you should drive 50 miles per hour. If you do, it seems like you're standing still while the whole world is going 60-70-80. . . . If we're going to conserve energy, let's all do it.

EILEEN KEENE, '72 graduate of Albany High School, has the distinction of crowning the "homecoming queen" who was a fellow at UC-Davis. Her picture was in Newsweek.

JERRY and MURIEL BLANK are back from a vacation in Hawaii. Edith and Henry Villa are back from a trip to Spain. (The Larimers went to Montclair on Saturday, returned the same night).

MIKE FAHME broke his ankle while waiting on a customer at Michael's Liquor Store. Understand Hal Denham, genial manager of Albany Chamber of Commerce, seriously injured his hand while trying to protect himself from a fall on an Albany street. Please, Hal, say it wasn't one of those bricked-in places on Solano!

The Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

Once again the same small group of discontents is attempting to stop the orderly progress of our City, for whatever vacillations it will give them (or feeling of power?).

At last Thursday night's meeting, the same "Pied Piper" was present, directing the roles played by members of the newly-formed Parkland group, telling the self-appointed chairman (a new face) who to let speak and when to cut them off because they were getting "repetitious" or "boring."

Her directions resulted in a rather one-sided expression of feelings, and those who did not go along with the general thinking were left with "egg on their faces," mainly because they were worried about political implications and/or financial indebtedness in case of legal action.

Many of these people are the same ones who blocked the Albany waterfront development for five years, with a lawsuit which was just recently thrown out of court, with the group ordered to "pay costs" to the City of Albany.

Some are also among those involved in the lawsuit against the City and the Albany Hill developers, which delayed the start of construction for many months, and which was recently settled by mutual agreement.

If a group such as this should ever get a foothold in our City, I shudder to think of the ramifications, since they presume to tell private landowners just who they can sell their property to, how much they can be charged for it, and even what can be done with privately owned land. Albany could become another Berkeley!

Just exactly how many of this group are actually Albany property owners is not known at present. Not many, I presume, as they seem to be determined to keep the chances of raising our City's tax revenue to a bare minimum. After all, when projects such as the waterfront and Albany Hill developments are delayed or halted—it's always the taxpayers who suffer.

However, be warned, they do plan to select and campaign for at least two candidates in next April's municipal election, hoping if they are successful to have a majority representation on the Council, because as the "Pied Piper" told them last week: "Don't worry about Councilman — we know he will vote with us." The two public meetings held by this group have been taped, and one has only to listen to them to know what is really behind their actions.

Sincerely,
DOROTHY EISENBERG

Parkland Purchase Questioned

Approximately 55 Albany residents listened to attorney Milt Nason of Albany, discuss the pros and cons of a civil lawsuit which would test the legality of the transactions concerning the controversial Albany Hill land deal.

Critics of the land deal maintain that the price Interstate General Corporation paid for the 1.1 acre of Mr. Calls Albany Hill property was "outrageous" and that the transaction poses a serious conflict of interest. Mr. Nason, while stating that in his opinion a conflict of interest does exist, stressed the responsibility of those citizens involved in a civil lawsuit and the possible liability that could be incurred.

In other areas of discussion Mrs. Berl Hartman, temporary chairman of the group, Citizens for Better Parkland, announced that December 3rd the Albany City Council will hold a public meeting on the crucial open space element which is included in the city's general master plan. In a letter signed by many of those present at the Thursday night meeting, Mrs. Hartman urges the city council to "put aside any differences we may have about the propriety of the Albany Hill land purchase and consider what is best for the city in terms of a park on Albany Hill."

She pointed out that two acres on the top of Albany Hill, owned by Golden Gate Hill Development Corp., is a natural parkland site, should be designated as "potential open space," and a serious commitment should be made to purchase this land.

In a final action on Thursday night the group adopted two resolutions to be sent to the Albany City Council. In the first resolution the Citizens for Better Parkland seriously questioned the methods and negotiations for the acquisition of the 1.1 acre of Albany Hill property, and the final acceptance of that property by the City Council. In the second resolution the Committee asked that the Golden Gate Hill Corporation property be included in the open space element of any final master plan.

When Mrs. Webb questioned the rationale for changing the Park and Recreation Plan by eliminating the Golden Gate land and accepting the gift of Councilman Call's land from IGC, Mayor Lewis Howell suggested that an election is near and, in his opinion, the meeting was becoming a political soapbox. He said in order to find out how much park the people of Albany are willing to pay for, the matter should be placed on the April ballot.

Mrs. Hartman said it was not the fault of Citizens for Better Parkland that the timing of their organization coincides with a time preceding an election. She said of the 50-60 people who attended their two meetings, she knew less than a quarter.

"They're simply people outraged at this deal," she said. "Politics are not a function of this group."

Mayor Howell said he had heard tapes of both meetings. Councilman Joe Carlevaro moved that the hearing be continued until the meeting of Monday, Dec. 17. This passed unanimously.

In other action, Council: HELD OVER for another week a decision on replacement

SET Jan. 8 as the Planning and Zoning hearing on amendments to the Home Occupation Ordinance (six and a half pages of modifications designed to provide tighter controls in some instances, eliminate use permit procedures in some cases and insuring the preservation of residential character of neighborhoods) and Dec. 6 as their own public hearing on suspending Home Occupation use permits for a further 90-day period.

Council Public Hearing on Open Space Continued

By DOROTHY LARIMER

Albany City Councilmen Monday night considered many items on a full agenda and voted to continue a public hearing on the Open Space Element of the General Plan until Dec. 17 at the request of several in the audience.

A near-capacity audience attended the meeting, possibly expecting fireworks due to a number of letters on the agenda from members of the newly-formed Albany Citizens for a Better Parkland.

Letters from Catherine Webb, 24 residents, Ann Berry and Penelope Dutton concerning parkland on Albany Hill were referred to the public hearing on the Open Space portion of the General Plan as was one from John Maybury, protesting Interstate General Corporation's planned 2,500-unit high-rise.

Members of the Citizens for a Better Parkland described their recent walk on property purchased from Councilman H. F. Call and given to the city by IGC. They expressed shock at the lack of access and steepness of the land. Beryl Hartman, temporary chairman of the group, spoke in favor of acquiring the two-three acres at the crest owned by Golden Gate Hill Development Corporation, indicating Councilman Call's property was worthless without this property. She displayed pictures of both properties.

They requested Council to rescind the deal with Councilman Call and designate the Golden Gate property as open space, or to at least "set aside" the upper property by marking it green on the map, suggesting that if and when the Golden Gate property is developed, the City could then force the developers to donate a portion as public open space.

City Attorney Lawrence D. Saler explained that under a state mandate the City must conform to the General Plan by appropriate zoning by Jan. 4, 1974. Turner added that if anything is zoned as open space, the City must then come up with the capability of purchasing it. Saler said a General Plan is conceptual and can be changed, but under existing state law, cities must zone to conform and then "you're in an area of inverse condemnation."

Anne Rotramel argued for access to the coast through beach or shoreline. Councilman Clark reminded her that Bay Conservation and Development Commission controls 100 feet from the shoreline. Herbert Rubin said it would be a good idea to give penetrating thought to what should be private open space outside of the 100 feet controlled by BDCD.

When Mrs. Webb questioned the rationale for changing the Park and Recreation Plan by eliminating the Golden Gate land and accepting the gift of Councilman Call's land from IGC, Mayor Lewis Howell suggested that an election is near and, in his opinion, the meeting was becoming a political soapbox. He said in order to find out how much park the people of Albany are willing to pay for, the matter should be placed on the April ballot.

Mrs. Hartman said it was not the fault of Citizens for Better Parkland that the timing of their organization coincides with a time preceding an election. She said of the 50-60 people who attended their two meetings, she knew less than a quarter.

Albany Bobcats Win Nugget Bowl

The Albany Bobcats, local representatives to the Nugget Bowl in South Lake Tahoe, battled against several inches of snow and came up victorious against the Lincoln Packers. Quarterback Fred Johnson led his team to a 25-0 win in the freezing weather.

The offensive line of Darrick McFadden, Charles Dansler, Reggie Johnson, Paul Chavez, Mark Diani, Andre Mims, Don Salley, Ricky Taylor, Marcus McKinley and Carl Johnson performed blocking and running duties.

Jeff Ransome, Tod McDonald, David Tyler, Tim Lewis, Steve Jerrerson, David Judd, Paul Cassinelli, Gerald Wiley, David Lafleur, Dana Long, Kendal Willis, and Keith Young held the Packers scoreless and deep in their own territory most of the game.

Ten cheer girls and three ball boys accompanied the team. The only team member not playing was Tom Brown, who was in an accident prior to the game and broke his leg.

The Bobcats wish to thank all businesses and organizations who helped send the team to South Lake Tahoe. They include the Lions Club, the Rotary Club, Plaza Laundromat, Ellis-Olson Mortuary, Mary and Joe's, Call Bros. Jewelers, Winchell Donuts, Hunts Donuts, Hucks Printing, and the Soroptimist Club.

Postal Deadline For Christmas Cards Nearing

Postmaster William Wollman today urged immediate mailing of all domestic Christmas cards. "Because of the energy crisis, the Postal Service needs additional time to assure on-time delivery," Mr. Wollman said. The new date is December 8 for domestic first class cards.

The Postal Service is committed to clearing all Christmas mail from Post Offices by December 24, the Postmaster said, but because of the fuel shortage additional time is needed.

appearing as "a very angry citizen" and protested vehemently a charge of $124.59 for cleaning the weeds from her lot on Albany Hill. She asked for a review of the charges, wondered why burning was no longer permitted and asked why property owners were not given advance notice so they could clean off their land themselves.

Administrative Officer James B. Turner said he would recoup the charges on individual lots and discussed the problems involved: hiring people to do the work, the lush growth and great fire hazard on the hill this year, and the fact that much of the debris was garbage and dead trees which had to be hauled to trucks which could not get into the area. He said he would be happy to review any charges which citizens feel are too high.

Mrs. Clark was told that open burning has been banned, but her suggestion that property owners be notified as well as posting the property was accepted as a good idea.

Dario Meniketti, in the final action of the meeting, presented each Councilman with a large copy of the "Bill of Rights." Councilman Clark asked him to note the last line of Article Five: ". . . nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation." As a few in the audience shouted "JUST compensation," the meeting was adjourned at 9:45 p.m.

Donations Needed For Aid Program

The Volunteers of America are requesting donations of serviceable merchandise to assist them in their continuing program of aid to the needy within the community.

Lt. Colonel Raymond G. Ecklund, executive director of the Oakland Post, states: "We are particularly in need of all types of furniture, dishes, pots and pans, large and small gas or electric appliances, baby furniture, silverware, clothing for men, women, children of all ages, and infant layettes, and old newspapers."

The Volunteers of America conducts a year-around aid to the needy program, administers a broad program of rehabilitation for the physically and socially handicapped, aids and counsels families of men and women in prison, in addition to many other worthwhile services to the community.

Householders and businesses are urged to call 536-0123 to arrange for free truck pickup of donations.

Toy Alert Service Now Available

The State Department of Health will again offer a "Toy Alert Service" to parents and others in California concerned about choosing the right holiday gifts for children. The service was inaugurated last year, in cooperation with federal officials, to insure that toys being sold in California meet state and United States safety standards.

"We urge parents and all those buying toys to be aware of possible hazards and to consider the age of the child in selecting a gift," said J. M. Stubblebine, M.D., director of the California health agency. He said "Helpful Hints in Choosing Safe Toys," a checklist for consumers, is available from offices of the State Food and Drug Section. Locations are listed in telephone directory white pages, under "Consumer Complaints and Protection Coordinators, Foods, Drugs, Hazardous Chemicals." On the reverse side of the checklist is a consumer product complaint form that may be returned to the state for appropriate action.

The department also will make available to major retailers copies of a list of some 1,500 toys banned by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. Health officials throughout California are cooperating with the federal agency and the State Department of Consumer Affairs in making the public more aware of hazards from poorly made toys. Also, spot checks of stores will be conducted to determine the level of compliance with state and federal laws.

"The public and even many retailers are unaware that a 1971 state law prohibiting sale of dangerous products includes under hazardous substances any toy or article intended for use by children that presents an electrical, mechanical, or thermal hazard," Dr. Stubblebine said.

The toy alert service in 1972 netted 140 banned items and 60 toys of doubtful safety.

Cancer Society Offers Christmas Giving Program

The Alameda County Unit of the American Cancer Society is offering special Christmas cards to business firms and individuals who prefer to send cards with additional significance. The Cancer Society refers to the program as "A Gift of Life."

Alfred O. Parham, president of the local health group, said that the Society is offering an array of designs, samples of which are on display at either of two offices in the county—518 17th Street, Oakland or 22227 Redwood Road, Castro Valley.

Parham especially urged consideration by business firms of the Cancer Society's Christmas giving program. "Rather than send material gifts to customers and business friends, with the risk of seeming to buy a favor," Parham suggested donations to the American Cancer Society in the names of those on corporate Christmas lists.

Parham said that the cost of cards, including delivery and handling, is 25 cents to the Society. Donations above that amount are tax deductible. He urged that the contribution per card be at a level appropriate to the cause and the season. "The Cancer Society is not in the business of selling Christmas cards," he emphasized. "We are, however, trying to provide a suitable way for individuals and commercial organizations to aid programs of the Cancer Society during the traditional season of giving."

Imprinting the cards with the donor's name can be provided at slight extra cost. With or without imprinting, cards can still be delivered in time for early mailing.

Timely Lessons For Our Young Area Bicyclist

By JOHN T. FORD,
Albany Police Dept.

Bicycle Detail

Across the entire United States, bicycling has become very popular among adults. No longer is biking only enjoyed by young people and boys with paper routes. All this extra bike traffic, added to the ever-increasing number of cars on the highways, makes it necessary that everyone be alert at all times, and follow all traffic rules very carefully.

The purpose of this entire series of lessons has been to make it perfectly clear what the traffic rules are for bicyclists. Essentially, they are the same rules that the driver of a motor vehicle must follow, but due to the size and speed of a bicycle, these rules do vary. Of course, when a bicyclist sees a speed limit sign saying "35 M.P.H. Limit," he isn't often going to have enough speed to exceed this. Recently, however, since the gain in popularity and sales

Now, many young bicyclists have the idea that they will not be issued traffic violation citations, simply because they are riding bikes. This is not true!

Years ago, when there were not very many cars on the highway, a young person on a bicycle would simply receive a warning from a police officer when he disobeyed a traffic law. This was fine, for those who learned by being given a warning, but in today's hurry on the highways, and the crowded conditions, if a bicyclist does not follow the traffic laws ex-

Bicyclists will be cited for all traffic violations, and will be required to appear at the Albany Police Department the second Saturday after the citation is issued. The juvenile officer will then handle proceedings.

So, you see, it is best that you remain alert at all times when you are riding your bicycle. Not only will being alert save the possibility of an accident, where you could be severely hurt, but it protects your life and the lives of others riding, walking, and driving on the streets and highways!

QUESTIONS

Yes No
Are people on bicycles subject to traffic laws when riding on streets and highways?

All traffic laws MUST be obeyed due to there being so much more traffic on the highways now than ever before?

Following traffic rules could save your life.

Bugs are a Big Deal

No matter how efficiently man farms his land, no matter what kind of natural controls he may choose to use, man will always lose out to bugs—unless he uses pesticides.

"Bugs reproduce far too rapidly for farmers to be able to raise food in sufficient amounts to feed both pests and humans. The pests will win it all every time," says Dr. Robert White-Stevens, Chairman of the Bureau of Conservation and Environmental Science at Rutgers University.

ALBANY LIONS, who annually raise funds through their sale of lightbulbs, are trying to conserve energy by urging the public to buy smaller light bulbs. They're even making public the fact that the Cross on Albany Hill, which will be officially lighted on Dec. 8, draws only 1.5 amperes of current, far less than ordinary holiday lighting.

O.K., FOLKS, then what about the Soroptimist campaign to "Light the Night" to discourage home burglaries. It's really mind-boggling!

Cancer Detection Information To Be Available To Local Women
 During the next two years, Northern California women will be the target of health information and publicity backed up by a house full of cancer detection equipment.
 At a press conference at Samuel Merritt Hospital, Dr. Robert J. Schweitzer announced that the National Cancer Institute and American Cancer Society will jointly fund a half-million dollar project to improve the rate of detection of early cancers in the breast.
 A residence at 384 34th Street, Oakland, is being remodeled to house the Breast Screening Clinic of Northern California.
 When complete, it will be the only such medical facility in California, and one of twenty in the entire country.
 Dr. Schweitzer, Director of the project, said that within two years the center will serve ten thousand women. They will receive, free of charge, an x-ray of the breast called "xeroradiography," which gives an easily-read diagnostic picture of any tumors present; a thermograph-ic picture of the breasts, which

Quick Party Punch

 Punch was introduced in England from India. The word punch is derived from the Hindi word punch, meaning five. Traditionally, punch was made with five ingredients. However, nowadays there is no limit to the number of ingredients a punch may have.
 Here is a cool refreshing Tea Punch served with a pound cake covered with a delicious icing made with Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels as a special ingredient. The combination is one everyone will like.
Quick Party Punch
 6 cups water 1 6-oz. can frozen pineapple
 1 cup sugar juice, reconstituted (3 cups)
 1/2 cup Instant Nestle 1/2 cup lemon juice
 2 6-oz. cans frozen orange 1 28-oz. bottle ginger ale, juice, reconstituted (6 cups) chilled
 In large bowl combine water, sugar and Nestle; stir until dissolved.
 Add reconstituted orange and pineapple juices. Stir in lemon juice.
 Before serving, add ginger ale. Serve in a large bowl with ice. If desired, garnish attractively with halved fresh strawberries, orange and lemon slices. Makes 40 1/2-cup servings. Serve with chocolate frosted pound cake.
Soft Chocolate Frosting
 1/2 cup milk 1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) Nestle's
 1/2 cup butter Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels
 2 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
 In saucepan combine milk and butter; bring just to a boil.
 Remove from heat; add Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels and stir until morsels are melted and mixture is smooth. Beat in confectioners' sugar; continue beating until smooth. Chill until thick enough to spread (about 30-40 minutes). Spread frosting on packaged pound cake.
 Frosts 1 11 1/4-oz. pound cake.

Clothing Needed
 The Volunteers of America have requested the donation of all types of outgrown and outdated clothing and shoes, still in wearable condition, to meet the continuing need within the community for aid to the needy
 Lt. Col. Raymond G. Ecklund, executive officer of the Oakland Post, states: "We are beginning to experience the usual stepped-up demand for all types and sizes of warmer clothing to meet the approaching winter months, and we urgently need to augment our existing stocks now.
 "We need clothing for men, women, children and infants.
 We also welcome donations of all types of household items, furniture, large and small gas and electrical appliances, antiques, silver, dishes, bric-a-brac, and old newspapers.
 "In this era of recycling, we urge that no useful item be thrown away when it can again become valuable to someone in need."
